CREATE THE RIGHT ENVIRONMENT TO ENCOURAGE YOUR WORKERS TO GIVE THEIR BEST

More than 600 million people worldwide fall ill, and 420,000 die each year from consuming contaminated food<sup>1</sup>. A 2022 study by Food Standards Australia New Zealand and the Australian National University estimated that Australia experiences 4.67 million cases of food poisoning annually, resulting in 47,900 hospitalisations, 38 deaths, and an economic cost of $2.1 billion<sup>2</sup>.

Employees' hand hygiene is crucial for minimising the risk of cross-contamination at every stage, from production to plate. Therefore, maintaining and strictly enforcing high cleanliness standards is essential. Outbreaks of cross-contamination or skin dermatitis can disrupt production, potentially causing significant and irreversible reputational damage to brands and companies, along with the associated costs.

Providing high-quality, effective products is only part of the solution. With over 80 years of experience in professional skin care, we understand that food safety workers are more likely to use products that are pleasant to use and supported by proper training and educational tools.

That's why our approach goes beyond skin care. We deliver highly effective formulations that meet the latest standards, offer broad-spectrum efficacy, and include specialised options for sensitive skin. Our easy-to-use dispensers and complementary surface cleaning solutions are designed to naturally encourage compliance, reducing the risk of cross-contamination in your facility while promoting optimal skin health for your workers.

We offer a comprehensive site survey to evaluate your facility's unique needs. This ensures that the right products are strategically placed for maximum accessibility and usability. By optimising product placement, we help enhance compliance, promote worker skin health, and maintain superior cleaning standards, ensuring your operations remain safe, efficient, and effective.
